"Render unto Caesar" is the beginning of a phrase attributed to Jesus in the synoptic gospels, which reads in full, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's".[Matthew 22:21] This phrase has become a widely quoted summary of the relationship between Christianity, secular government, and society. The original message, coming in response to a question of whether it was lawful for Jews to pay taxes to Caesar, gives rise to multiple possible interpretat

Render Unto Caesar - Breaking Ground

"Render unto Caesar or as other's put it "Give Caesar his due" is fairly well known. Jesus' answer to the Pharisees and Herodians does not stop there, of course. But people in this world are more generally concerned about this world's matters than the next. They also fear government far more than they do God.

rules over the affairs of men whether our human rulers are guardians and protectors or tyrants and oppressors. Bob Lepine shares that there is no guarantee in the Bible that the gates of hell will not prevail against a nation. But there is a promise from the lips of Jesus Himself that the gates of hell will not prevail against His church.

The whole concept of separation of church and state can be traced back to the incisive words of Jesus in Luke 20:25... "render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." In context, Jesus had just told the Parable of the Wicked Vinedresser, which upset some of the religious rulers of his day.
